CUSTOM MADE STEEL SECURITY DOORS

The success of the Duckham Court housing project largely depended on the combination of the durability and aesthetic that the Securidor range offers.

It was essential that these high traffic doors worked seamlessly with the access control systems as integrating these elements can often be a source of snags and delay on site. Working with our partners within the industry and construction trade, Strongdor identified and resolved potential issues before the doors were delivered. Supplying a superior door that satisfied internal light requirements and security considerations, while being simultaneously effective in maintaining the thermal integrity of the entire housing project. To the clients delight, we provided on-site support for the installation and the project was delivered on time and in budget.
