LOUVRE PANELS AND WALLS

Louvidor doors and panels are the essential solution where security is critical and airflow essential.

Strongdor's high quality, fully louvered panels and doors are designed to protect and ventilate without compromising either function. With the same level of performance and high standards of quality and service which Strongdor has now set as the industry benchmark, these products allow 50% airflow through any given panel size. This enables airflow to be controlled into plant rooms, bin stores and more.

All sizes and colours are available and fully compatible with most of our doorset ranges.

Versatile, aesthetically pleasing and easily adapted into the design vernacular, Strongdor louvered doors and panels have got it covered.
